Soulsome Healing - Maximilian Pichler

Soulsome Healing is an artist-led sound brand based in Tyrol, Austria, founded by musician, producer and immersive sound artist Maximilian Pichler. Soulsome combines original compositions, electronic soundscapes, organic instruments, voice and atmospheric sound design to create distinctive listening experiences for wellness hotels, spas, retreats, yoga and breathwork facilitators, studios and professional practice spaces. Sound becomes an intentional part of the guest experience rather than generic background music. Its work spans three areas: LIVE & RITUAL - guided live sound journeys with gentle breathing elements and creative sound workshops; CUSTOM & STUDIO - bespoke music and sound design for spa rituals, selected applications and a venue's sonic identity; LICENSE & LIBRARY - selected Soulsome journeys already available for professional licensing on request. A digital library offering expanded access and licensing models is currently in development. Soulsome's aim is to encourage relaxation, presence and mindful awareness through original music while adding a distinctive sonic dimension to premium wellbeing experiences.
